ETHICS & SUSTAINABILITY

OGUK works closely with its supply and retail partners to ensure that we provide socially acceptable manufacturing sites by accrediting against professionally recognised organisations.

- Environmental sustainability is hugely important for retailers and consumers who are becoming increasingly aware of how and where products are being made. To this end, we are committed to supplying our partners with products produced in an ethical and eco-friendly environment. All our factories meet a basic level of 'green' compliance, with some going beyond this to achieve the standards required to be classed as an eco-factory.
- We have established robust anti-slavery and anti-immigration policies in all of our factories.
- We are using recycled fibres including yarns produced from plastic bottles, organic cottons, bamboo and BCI yarns to introduce sustainable products to all of our customers.

“Our focus will always be to supply quality products, produced in fully audited factories, at competitive prices.”
